

The "Inquirer" vs. Official Reports vs. the "Inquirer"

THE TRUTH, THE WHOLE TRUTH
When the present board of county officials came into office the obligations of the county aggregated the sum of $65,350. Since then several new bridges have been built, many old ones have been repaired and the total indebtedness of the county has been reduced to $39,500, making a reduction of $26,850 in two and one-half years' time, in addition to meeting the current expenses and fixed charges of the county. This is a record that both the officials and the Republican party may well be proud of and, if the people see fit to entrust another three years of the commissioners office to the custody of the Republican party, they can expect to see the balance of the debt wiped out and the county stand clear and free.

WE DID NOT LIE.
The Inquirer does not lie, neither does it attempt to juggle with the truth, for the purpose of catching votes, as is too frequently done, we regret to say, by the organs advocating the opposition. On the 23d day of April, 1903, the County Commissioners, in order to meet the obligations of the county were obliged to issue bonds, and that they might do so legally, under the advice of their counsel, prepared and filed a financial statement.

BARON KOMURA DEPORTS

Special Correspondence to THE GAZETTE.
NEW YORK, October 17.—Baron Komura, the Japanese envoy to the peace conference, who left last week for Japan, carries with him the honor and respect of everyone who has watched the daily work of this remarkable man. There is little doubt that he was a very strong man during the entire session, but whatever his influence was, he bore them with high spirits and dignity worthy of the high position he held. It was not until the morning of the 17th that the peace conference was broken down and the sudden collapse of the peace conference was a surprise to all. Baron Komura was not a member of the peace conference, but he was a very strong man during the entire session, but whatever his influence was, he bore them with high spirits and dignity worthy of the high position he held. It was not until the morning of the 17th that the peace conference was broken down and the sudden collapse of the peace conference was a surprise to all.

A TRIP TO NEW YORK.

Conductor McGrawy tells of his visit to Niagara Falls.
Next we passed the Market Street bridge and over to Camden. After spending some time we returned to Philadelphia and went to Warram's store. After purchasing several things we went for supper. I tell you we enjoyed it as we were very hungry after tramping and riding over the city for about eight hours. You know how you would drive something to eat. We rested from then until 8:40 and took No. 18 for Orono, arriving there at 4:34 p. m. 30 minutes later. Passing through the tunnel we arrived at Orono. We found that the hotel was not open and we were about to go away the next day when a neighbor came out and said they would be home by 7:30. Seven-thirty and no dinner! We took out for a hotel and only tramped about a square before we found a place to "feed." After dinner we strolled towards Orono's mansion and were invited in by their neighbor and while sitting in the parlor we saw a man in a tuxedo. After a short stay we proceeded to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reed, where we spent some time. I now being September 17.

On September 18 we left Orono on the C. & O. Div. P. R. R. at 9:50 for Pocomo Junction. On the way we passed through Carrollton tunnel on a grade of 100 feet to the mile. Spangler, Boushore, Cherry Tree were passed. Here we saw the William Penn monument, erected at the place where the water was not being deep enough to proceed any further up stream in his boat. This is at the junction of three counties, Cambria, Clearfield and Indiana. From here the views are very fine.

Why Refer to Doctors

Because we make medicines for them. We give them the formula for Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and they prescribe it for coughs, colds, bronchitis, consumption. They trust it. Then you can afford to trust it. Sold for over 60 years.

county's liabilities in excess of assets on the first day of January, 1903, which was the time WHEN THE INQUIRER last week in a lengthy editorial, from which we clip the third column above attempted to put it right. As shown in this statement they then have a fixed indebtedness of only $50,000. And count a proposed outlay of $14,000 when did the 23d day of April become the 1st day of January? What could have been their object? They have much to say about the difference between January and "bonded indebtedness." Take the obligations (liabilities) at the end of the words "obligations" and "bonded indebtedness." They must use "obligations" in their 1902 and at the end of 1904 and the increase is $13,298.42. Offer to Refund Money if Hyomyl Does Not Cure Catarrh.
To the Editor of THE GAZETTE:
I have been asked recently if the advertisement printed in your column regarding Hyomyl were true, where I offer to refund the money if this treatment does not cure catarrh. I wish you would please print this letter in as conspicuous a place as possible in your paper, saying that we absolutely agree to refund the money to any purchaser of a Hyomyl outfit if it does not cure catarrh.

A Russian soldier left behind his brothers in arms. He slowly rose up and faced his captors. They smiled and, reassured, he placed his cap and commenced to fan himself with it. Now, it is a common custom for a Japanese soldier to carry about with him in the belt a weathered small fan. On this occasion a fan was forthrightly taken from the soldier and he refused to take it, preferring to use his cap. Still, with an amiable smile on his face, one of the Japanese captives proffered him the rejected fan, at the same time covering him with a re-assuring hand on the shoulder, and furthered to take it, preferring to use his cap. THE WORLD'S GOLD PRODUCTION.

The world's gold production for last year was one of the largest in history. The figures show that Australia produced the most, while our country was a close second. But what is the cause of the production of a reliable country for the thousands and millions of mankind we feed and clothe? The answer is simple. It is the production of a reliable country for the thousands and millions of mankind we feed and clothe.

Champion Wheat Grower.
The many friends of John D. Dennis, who formerly lived in Wolfshagen, this county, but moved to Filmore county, Neb., about twenty seven years ago, will be glad to learn of his success. He now owns a fine farm near Saxon, containing 280 acres and a lot of valuable town property. In 1904 Mr. Dennis threshed from 140 acres 5,500 bushels of wheat; this year he threshed from 141 acres 6,314 bushels. This wheat was sold for 75 cents per bushel. Mr. Dennis enjoys the distinction of being the champion wheat raiser of that county, as this is an average yield of almost 45 bushels to the acre.
